Hope just means another world might be possible, not promise, not guaranteed. Hope calls for action;
action is impossible without hope.

Our democracy has become so bewitched, and so thoroughly gaslit, that the nation is now terrified at the prospect of leaving what is clearly a toxic relationship. We know its bad for us and the kids. But we've become so worn down and disoriented, so lied to and loomed over that we're scared to get out. And those to whom we look for guidance and support, the folks who should be finding us a pathway out of this mess? They're more rattled than us. Because they know Big Daddy. What he's capable of. They insist he's a top bloke – mostly. Just gets a little carried away- sometimes, that's all. When we cry out to be rescued, they're so keen to remind us about how generous Big Daddy's been. He's been so nice to us hasn't he? He loves us. In his way.<sup>1</sup>
